Re: Application 09/878,789 Agee et al.

Dear Examiner Wong:

Enclosed is the copy of your First Office Action of 10/09/06 for the above-numbered patent application, and the Response thereto, including specifically the Claims Listing. Many thanks for informing me that, due to the overlap between the interview and the issuance of that Office Action, an Examiner's Amendment was not feasible and that I needed to file this Response.

I hope that this Response, and these claims, will now be approved. If you want the MS Word files of either or both of the Specification and Claims Listing, or anything else to assist you in your task, please let me know and I will be glad to send such by email.

As you know, we had a very significant and fruitful telephonic interview (I spoke with both you and your supervisor, Mr. Huy Vu). At the end of that process, on Oct. 28th, 2006 I sent an informal copy of the claims text that we had mutually resolved and that you and he had indicated were ready for approval.

In preparing this response, I made changes to that text, detailed as follows.

The first set of changes were made to conform with PTO requirements stated in the Office Action:

- First, the missing words "spatially diverse" were added in the seventh line (Line 9) of Claim 1, to solve the problem of the missing antecedent, putting the text of Claim 1 in conformity with that in the other independent Claims 2, 41, 101, 108, 113, 185;
- The acronym "SINR" was spelled out in Claim 3 (it first appears there, not in Claim 2);
- The parentheses in Claim 32 were removed;
- The misspelling of "heterogenous" was corrected in Claim 38;
- The duplicated line "A wireless electronic communications network" was removed in Claim 101;

and,

- A colon replaced the comma after the word "comprising in Claim 185.

I then found the additional typographical errors, which are specifically listed also on Page 11 of the Response:

- The lack of a missing space in “diversitycapability” was corrected in Claim 41;
 - The repetition of the word “wherein” was eliminated in Claim 59;
 - The lack of a missing space in “Amethod” was corrected in Claim 72;
 - The misspelling of “futher” for “further” was corrected in Claim 109;
- and,
- In each of Claims 150 and 151, the misspelling of “reliabilty” for “reliability” and the extra period at the end of a sentence were both corrected.

I fervently hope that these changes – and in fact, this Response – are seen as a sincere effort to meet our joint goal and to present only an application and claims that are, truly, in as close and accurate a condition, ready for issuance, as I can provide.

Sincerely Yours:

George S. Cole
